5 Common SEO Mistakes Small Businesses Make

Having a website is a good start, but small mistakes can make it harder for people to find your business online.

1. Ignoring Local SEO
If you serve customers in a specific city, make sure your business name, location, contact details, and Google Business Profile are up to date.

2. Using the Wrong Keywords
Don't only use broad keywords. Think about what your actual customers would search for when looking for your products or services.

3. Poor Website Content
A website should clearly explain what you offer. Useful, original content can help both customers and search engines understand your business.

4. Forgetting Mobile Users
Many people in Pakistan browse websites through their phones. Your website should be easy to read and use on a mobile screen.

5. Expecting Quick Results
SEO usually takes time. Regularly improving your website and content is more useful than expecting instant results.
